their economies. Economists and numerous countries protested against the tariff reform.